Nicholson Named May Queen, 1945

Smith Maid of Honor; Hogan, Shannon Also Nominated For Title

Catherine Eve Nicholson, senior from Edgefield was elected May Queen, to reign over Winthrop's 1945 May Court, by members of the senior class in secret ballot yesterday.

She chose as her Maid of Honor Dorothy Smith, of Rutherfordton, N. C., contender for the May Queen title.

"Cat Eve" May Court member for three years, is a pre-med student. She is business manager of The Tatler, a member of The Johnsonian advertising staff and a member of Forepicks and Scalpels, biology club. She served as a College Marshal her junior year.

"Dot," May Court of 1944, is a home economics major, a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics fraternity, editor of the '45 Tatler, and a member of Senior Order and "Who's Who." She has served on the "Y" sophomore commission, the dance committee and was a College Marshal her senior year.

Others nominated, and eliminated at a senior class meeting Monday night, were Jo Hogan of Greenville and Faye Shannon, of Greenwood.

Most of the attendants from each of the four classes are being chosen in class elections this week and next week.

Band Praised For Charlotte Performance

The Winthrop band, invited to participate at the Shriners' all-star football game Saturday, received much praise upon its performance from shrine officials who witnessed the day's activities.

Accompanied by Emmett Gore, instructor and director of the Band, all members of the organization attended the benefit class, played annually by South and North Carolina high school football all-stars, to raise funds for the Shrine hospital for crippled children at Greenville. The South Carolina team won 6-0.

"One of the most impressive sights ever seen in Memorial stadium was the massing of 27 uniformed bands and their playing as one organization," stated the Charlotte Observer of December 2. "High school, college and Shrine bands marched. The all-girl band of Winthrop college was lavishly praised for its performance. All the bands appeared to good advantage, according to Shrine officials, but particularly outstanding were the Winthrop band and that of Lenoir High, Lenoir, N. C." The Observer declared.

Students Appear In Music Recital

Eight students of music took part in the weekly recital held last Wednesday at 4 o'clock in the Music conservatory.

The program was as follows: "Allegretto in A major" (Haydn), Amy Rogers; "Two Part Invention No. 10" (Bach) and "Chopine" (Ragusa-Rogers), Mary Tucker; "Prelude, Op. 28, No. 6" (Chopin), Katherine Dunlap; "Menuetto and Trio Sonata in A major" (Mozart), Carolyn Holland; "In the Time of Roses" (Reichardt) and "Night and Day" (Manney), Emmeline Stewart; "Sonata in C major" (Mozart), Martha McCown; "Sonata in F minor Op. 2, No. 1" (Beethoven), Julia Johnson.

President And College Board

'For He's A Jolly Good Fellow... And Mr. Hugo, Too!

On December 4, a tradition began at Winthrop. Fourteen hundred girls stood in the Sims' front yard after supper and sang "Happy Birthday" to their President and his twin brother, Hugo.

It was a major bombardment, with all the modernized tactics used in maneuvering whole divisions across newly-inhabited territory—the vantage point for the girls' side was an entirely friendly retaliation on the part of the "target personnel." The declared powers aimed at their objective with "Come Out, Come Out, Mr. Sims" — and then fired with "Happy Birthday" and gifts for the Sims twins.

Kappa Delta Pi To Initiate Eight Seniors

The Winthrop college Delta Delta chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national all honorary members are invited, has extended membership bids to the following seniors: Evelyn Allen, Dillon; Tillie Brice, Woodward; Virginia Cooley, Rock Hill; Eloise Dempsey, Oak Ridge, Tennessee; Fanny Farnum, Orangeburg; Katherine Lawrence, Inman; Mary Gene Roberts and Miriam Willford, Rock Hill.

An initiation meeting, to which all honorary members are invited, will be held Thursday evening, December 14, at 6:45, in Johnson hall. Dean Mowat G. Fraser, Dr. W. D. Maginnis, Dr. Sadie Goggans, Miss Dema Lockhead, Miss Minnie Lee Rowland, Miss Bettie Todd, Miss Mildred E. Omwake, Mrs. Mae Wyan Locke, Miss Iva Gibson, Miss Winkie Ross, Miss Mary McCown, and Miss Hortense Rogers are faculty members in the society.

Membership bids will be extended to juniors early next semester, according to club President Willette Padgett.

Willette Padgett Named Senior Class Senator

Willette Padgett of Saluda was elected senator at a recent senior class meeting to fill the vacancy left by Ann Major's resignation. Willette is an English major. She is a member of Phi Gamma Mu, national honoratory social science fraternity; Beta Pi Theta, French fraternity; Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education club, and the Glee club.

Johnson Hall Dating Open To All; Charlotte Deadline, 8:30

A trial privilege allowing members of all classes of Winthrop college to date in Johnson hall on week ends, and a privilege permitting students to check in from Charlotte on week days and Saturdays by 8:30 at night were declared College rules today, following approval of the College Senate, the Student-Faculty committee on Student Affairs and President Henry R. Sims.

In further action, the Senate recommended two amendments to the Student Government Constitution By-Laws which will be acted upon by the four classes:

1. That the Student Government constitution By-Laws, article V, standing committees, be amended to include section 9, the Handbook committee. The work of this committee will be to compile Student Government material for the Handbook.

2. That use of the preferential ballot be discontinued in marking and counting ballots in campus elections. Act 6, By-Laws, sec. D). The new method reads:

a. When one person is to be elected, the person having the greatest number of votes shall be elected if such number be a majority of the whole number of votes cast; if no person have such majority, then from the two persons having the greatest number of votes, the voters shall by a second vote choose one to fill the office.

b. When several persons are to be elected on one ballot, the number of persons necessary to fill the offices shall be declared elected who shall have received the greatest number of votes.

Maginnis, Johnson Rice To Ed Meeting

Dr. W. D. Maginnis, head of the education department, and Dr. W. D. Rice, supervisor of the Winthrop Training school, will attend the meeting of the executive committee of the Teacher's Education Council in Columbia, Thursday evening, December 7.

Friday morning, December 8, they will be joined by Dr. Elizabeth Johnson, of the modern languages department, who is a member of the State Council on Teacher Education. The council will hear reports from committees on the new South Carolina teacher certification program.

Lominick To Head Lutheran Southern Area

Anna Margaret Lominick, junior from Pomaria, was elected president of the Lutheran Students' association for the Southeastern area, including colleges in nine states east of the Mississippi river, at the fall convention held at Raleigh, N. C., last weekend.

Colleges represented at the convention held on the campus of North Carolina State college, were Duke, Clemson, Catawba, University of North Carolina, Newberry, Lenoir-Rhyne (N.C.), Marion college, Va., University of Tennessee, and the Southern seminary. Ninety four students were delegates.

Other Winthrop Delegates

Other Winthrop students who attended were Louise Busch, Willa Padgett, Junia Feagle, Georgia Chandler, and Catherine Root. Anna Margaret, English and music major, is president of Winthrop's LSA, secretary of the Student Government association, member of Alpha Pi Omega, the Masquers, and the Winthrop college Music club. She is an honor member of the Senate.

She attended the national LSA conference held in New York last summer, and will automatically go to the coming convention, scheduled next summer.

President's Twin Brother Speaks On World Affairs In College Assembly Tuesday

Hugo S. Sims, editor and attorney of Orangeburg, and twin brother of Winthrop's president, Henry R. Sims, spoke in assembly Tuesday, December 5, on world affairs and their challenge to the student's future.

A review of the problems which confront the world, with the end of the present war, covered the stamping out of military and propaganda preaching in our neighborhood, South America and Mexico; a re-education of Italian and Spanish youth who have a Fascist foundation for their outlook; and gaining control over the ignorance and frustration of the masses of India.

'Il Trovatore' To Be Sung Tonight, 7:45

San Carlo Opera Company To Present 5th Artist Program, Auditorium

"Il Trovatore," an opera in four acts by Verdi, will be presented tonight in the College auditorium at 7:45, by the San Carlo Opera company, under the direction of Fortune Gallo.

Principal roles in the Spanish musical drama will be sung by Willa Stewart, as Leonora, a lady in waiting to a princess of Aragon; Marie Powers, as Azucena, a Biscayan gypsy woman; Emil Kauter, as Inez, confidante of Leonora; Sydney Rayner, as Manrico, chieftain under Prince Biscaya; Stefan Ballarini, as Count Di Luna, young noble of Aragon; William Wilderman, as Ferrando, "Luna's captain of the guard; Richard Vivaldi, as Ruiz, in Manrico's service; and Fausto Bozza, a gypsy.

Briefly, the musical drama of Spanish tragedy, intrigue, and mistaken identity, tells a moving story of love in conflict with revenge and hate.

The San Carlo Opera company holds a world record as the largest permanent touring opera company, and now is in its 32nd season. Director Fortune Gallo, world famous opera impresario, is celebrating by offering a greater array of artists than ever before, and by adding to the scenic effects.

Nicholas Rescigno, 27 year-old musician, will be the conductor for the presentation of "Il Trovatore."

AAUW To Give Christmas Play December 14, 15

The fine arts committee of the AAUW will present a faculty play entitled "Il Santo Bambino," or "The Holy Child," December 14, at Christmas reception of the organization. It will be repeated for students on the following evening in Johnson hall at 6:45.

The plot centers about a small image of the Christ Child called "Il Santo Bambino." It is a short comedy in two acts, written by Dr. Dennis Martin, and directed by Miss Iva Gibson. Miss Gibson, Miss Ella Elberle and Miss Elizabeth Foster take the roles of three American girls studying in Rome.

Dr. Elizabeth Johnson has a leading role as Maria, an Italian maid. Francis Harrison takes the part of Monsignor Pucci, a messenger from the Pope, and Elwood I. Terry represents the concierge at the pension.

A small admission fee will be charged, as the fine arts committee hopes by this means to help finance an exhibit of Goya prints which will be brought to the college in February.

President's Twin Brother Speaks On World Affairs In College Assembly Tuesday

Sympathy was named a requisite in the endeavor to normalize a broken France, and to soothe the wounds of countries forced to oppose our ideals and their own—countries such as Bulgaria, Roumania, Hungary and Poland—and to restore confidence to them and to China, the country which has fought longer than any other in defense of her freedom.

The duty of reshaping the globe, avoiding past mistakes and keeping the world safe for a free people, with the conclusion of the war, Mr. Sims said, would require the skill, sympathy and intelligence of each individual human being. Domestic conflicts will require

Five Colleges Take Part In Three-Day Forensic Meet In Charlotte, N. C.

R. G. LeTOURNEAU

LeTourneau To Speak Here Sunday

Eminent Industrialist, Evangelist Lectures In Auditorium, 3 o'clock

R. G. LeTourneau of Vicksburg, Miss., one of America's leading industrialists and world's largest manufacturer and inventor of earth-moving equipment, will speak in the Winthrop auditorium at 3 o'clock Sunday, December 10, accompanying Singer.

Mrs. Dorothy M. Stratham, lyric soprano, familiarly known as the "Gospel Nightingale of America," who accompanies Mr. LeTourneau in his evangelistic programs, will be guest soloist. She studied at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. LeTourneau claims that his success in making millions is due to his "partnership with God." R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., builds an estimated 70 per cent of all anglezers, pushdozers, scrapers and routers used by the Americans on all fronts.

In 1935, LeTourneau donated all the stock which he and his wife owned—70 per cent of the common shares outstanding in R. G. LeTourneau, Inc.—to endow the LeTourneau Foundation, a non-sectarian organization which is now the largest religious foundation in America, having assets of more than $10,000,000. It gives away nearly half a million dollars annually for religious causes, such as contributions to churches, schools, camps and scholarships.

SNAPSHOTS WANTED! Anyone wishing to submit snapshots for publication in The Tatler may give them to Frances Linley or leave them in The Tatler office, Dorothy Smith, editor, announced this week.

Any size snapshot can be used. The snapshots to be published will be determined by their originality and cleverness.

Understanding and cooperation if such issues as price control and inflation are to be combated successfully, he reminded. He declared it the obligation of every person to prepare himself to meet each new developing conflict with a knowledge of the human nature involved.

"The security of the future family depends upon your solution to these problems," Mr. Sims concluded. Selections on the program by the band, under the direction of Emmett Gore, were "Swinging Down The Line," "I Got Rhythm," "Army Air Corps March," and "I Love A Parade."

Debate Contest Saturday Winds Up Schedule For Strawberry Leaf Event

The annual Dixie Tournament, sponsored by the Strawberry Leaf Forensic society of Winthrop college, went into its second day of speech and debate competition today at the Sselwyn hotel, Charlotte, N. C., with five colleges participating.

Announcement of contest winners from headquarters at press time, according to Miriam Willford, president of Winthrop's Clio club activities, named the following first places: address reading, round 1, Norma Mingen, Mars Hill; round 1, Norma Mingen, Emory, and Evelyn Brookshire, Mars Hill; after-dinner speech, round 1, Oscar Gwinn, Emory, and Margaret Vedder, Lenoir-Rhyne; declamation, round 1, Norma Mingen, Mars Hill; and John Davenport, Mars Hill, round 2, Norma Mingen, and Thomas Swann, Mars Hill.

Drama Group To Present Yule Program

Dr. Paul M. Wheeler, head of the English department, will read "The Other Wise Man," by Henry Van Dyke, at the Christmas program to be presented by Alpha Pi Omega, national honorary drama group, at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, December 13, at 7:30, in the College auditorium.

The Choral speaking class, directed by Miss Florence A. Mims, and the Glee club, will take part in the program.

"The Other Wise Man" is divided into the prologue and five separate sections. The scripture, Luke 2:8-14, and the poems, "O Little Town," by Clinton Scollard, "Tree Carol" and "Christmas Carol" by Phillips Brooks will be read by the Choral reading group. Mrs. Gretchen Cumming will direct the audience in the singing of the Christmas Carol, "I Came Upon A Midnight Clear."

Parts of the program are connected by Christmas carols played by Mr. Gore, who is accompanied by Marjorie Freeman, Betty Ann Norris has charge of the lighting effects. ad Nan Early is stage manager.

Art Clubs Present Exhibit Tuesday

Brush and Palette, campus art club, and Kappa Psi, national honorary art fraternity, will hold their semi-annual art exhibit on Tuesday, December 12, from 3 o'clock until 7:30 in Dr. Mowat G. Fraser's reception room. The public is invited.

Included in the exhibit will be pastels, water colors, charcoal sketches, linoleum block prints, tempera flat work, textile designs, oils and art-craft work done by the members of the two clubs. Brush and Palette requires that each member exhibit her work, done at Tuesday afternoon meetings since September.

On Class Attendance

SOME MEMBERS of the student body must change their ways of class-cutting if the present system is to survive as a permanent institution. The situation was clear this week as the student body stopped and took a critical look at class attendance shortly before three members of the original attendance committee met with the College faculty to exchange ideas and opinions for improvement or modification of existing regulations.

Core of the problem, according to student representatives and faculty, is "What is a week end?" President Sims was empowered to appoint a faculty-student group to study a working definition, designed to correlate the week end system with the new class attendance system which has been in operation since last year.

A teacher has as much right to schedule a test on Saturday as on any other day. Classes meet six days a week, not four or five. Students are not playing fair when they present "Saturday tests" during those tests have been assigned during the preceding class meeting. Students are expected to attend all classes. The present system is designed to give students the right to miss class for good reasons, not so that they may sleep an extra hour.

Students who deliberately refuse to follow the advice of faculty members regarding class attendance should be reported to the dean of the College, who should then take proper administrative action. Only intelligent application of administrative power can check student irresponsibility.

A campus-wide education program to inform students of their particular responsibility for class attendance should begin at once. Lack of understanding on the part of students and faculty should not be permitted to undermine a practical, working system.

For The Dated And The Dateless

SEVERAL HUNDRED Winthrop students sent the YWCA Rec room off to a solid start last week end when campusers found out that the snack bar and game room was more than "just another place to buy a coke."

The "Y" has solved one of Winthrop's most acute problems. Dating, playing bridge, ping pong, games, and dancing have now been brought together in one place.

And crowded dating conditions in most campus residence halls have been eliminated.

The Empty Seats

A FEW ROCK HILL TOWNSPEOPLE and slightly more than half of the student body heard Nathan Milstein last Friday night in what was probably the most outstanding Artist Course program of the year.

To Violinist Milstein and the Winthrop management, the attendance must have been discouraging. But the management was able to continue the high tone of its Artist Course series if gate receipts do not finance the expeditions?

Almost half the student body were not present. Some of the "borderline cases" who never successfully make up their own minds about taking two hours out for cultural advancement, decided that compulsory wearing of College Issue uniform was not worth the trouble. The situation should be investigated. If wearing the College navy or white dress or the uniform suit is dragging Artist Course attendance to new lows, the uniforms should be changed.

Some students might not like violins. They might have never heard of Milstein. But sublime music in the hands of an artist transcends personal preferences.

For townspeople, the Winthrop Artist Course series is cultural highlight of the year. The succession of stars in every field who entertain Winthrop audiences compares favorably with similar programs in larger cities of the United States. Winthrop college is spending money to give its patrons the best that is possible. Can the practice continue if those patrons ignore the opportunities?

The Johnsonian urges a more concentrated publicity and ticket-selling campaign before every Artist Course program. War restrictions have decreased the number of out-of-town concertgoers. Concentrate on the people at home.

Support the Artist Courses. If there is dissatisfaction with the present series, inform the proper administrative officials. When half the student body stays away, continuation of top-notch programs becomes an impossibility.

Winthrop Women --- Later

ASSEMBLY SPEAKERS for the past two weeks have driven home the point that increased participation of women in politics and postwar planning is necessary and vital to future security. Governor Olin D. Johnston and Hugo S. Sims, Orangeburg editor, attorney and twin brother of WC's president, have put their fingers on a Winthrop problem which needs solid, active remedy, immediately.

Too many campusers never listen to the radio. Many more never read a daily newspaper consistently. Even greater numbers never read the local, national and international affairs. Discussing theatres of war or black markets is strictly "taboo" in ball sessions. Winthrop women will have just as much responsibility for solving postwar problems as other college women over the country. Upon well-educated men and women will fall the major part of the burden for world peace. But that general education must be supplemented by reading and discussions.

Uninformed students who do not know the backgrounds of the problems they must solve are dangerous to society. If the responsibility for postwar reconstruction, another war will be fought before another generation is old enough to fight.

Take time out to read a newspaper, at least consistently. Talk things over with well-informed people on the campus. The only way to effectively judge the worth of an education is that education put into practice.

What We Live By

The Johnsonian wants to deserve a reputation for accuracy, thoroughness, and fairness in covering the Winthrop college campus. You will do us a favor if you call our attention to any failure in measuring up to any of these fundamentals of good newspapering.

Casualty

By JEANNE MARSHALL

Most confusing thing of the week was the appearance of the Sims twins who look so alike that even their relatives mix them up. Introducing them at the Johnsonian birthday party held in their honor Monday afternoon was a problem in itself. Only evidence of difference was their way of speaking. They drink coffee alike, they smoke cigars the same way. A late "happy birthday" to them both. The student demonstration Monday night bearing fruit cake and pinata was sufficient evidence that the Sims twins have the solid backing of 1400 campusers.

Going Home

We checked over home permission slips of Winthrop students this week and found some highly original, but severely simple reasons for hitting the home road from September through December. A few of the choicest were, "Mama wants me," "To get some rest," "Home, trunk lost," and "To buy a navy coat." One girl hit the jackpot with, "to go home, to see dentist and to go Clemson homecoming" -- all in two days.

Playing For

We were informed the other day that the Swanks, campus dance orchestra, had set a rather prohibitive figure to pay for a dance in one of the College dormitories. The Swanks are good, and we're proud of them. But with dormitory entertainment funds limited, we think they could "take it easy" on their own College campus. For outside engagements, they may make money, but here on the campus, making expenses should be sufficient. Deals of this kind go a long way toward defeating campus cooperation.

WC's Dogs

Can anything be done with Winthrop's dogs? Just traveling over the campus is not objectionable, but invading everything from Student Government meetings to the dining room calls for some constructive action. They need more food, a series of baths. And we have even known students to trip over them in the dark as the hurrying campusers rushed to make dormitory front doors by 10:30.

Clipping

One trusting Winthrop student trekked to the library this week to find two articles in a sociology magazine. Both sources of information were re-clipped from the issues which had been bound and placed in the periodical room. That anyone should stand guard to see that no one clips library files is ridiculous. The library should selfishly cut out information useful to other students is even more so. Or maybe searching students for concealed information might be helpful.

ED CLUB MEETS

Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Maggins will be hosts to members of the Secondary Education club at their meeting Tuesday evening, December 12, in Johnson hall at 4:15.

COMMITTEE NAMED

Rachel McMaster of Winnsboro, and Lillie Fuller of Greenwood, have been named co-chairmen of the serving committee in the Senate cafeteria.

MASQUERS TO MEET

Shakespeare records will be played at the Christmas party of The Masquers, dramatics club, on Thursday, December 7 at 7 o'clock in Johnson hall.

EDWARDS SPEAKS

Opportunities for biology majors in the field of sociology was the subject of a talk by Dr. Allen D. Edwards, head of the sociology department, at the meeting of Beta, biology fraternity, Tuesday, December 8 in Johnson hall.

LOCKHEAD AT MEETING

Miss Deana Lockheed, of the education department faculty, attended a meeting of the council of delegates of the South Carolina Education association in Columbia Saturday, December 2.

MRS. RICE TO COLUMBIA

W. D. Rice, supervisor of second grade at the Winthrop Training school, will speak in Spartanburg Saturday morning, December 8, at a meeting of the Spartanburg County Education association.

WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS?

This week your Campus Town Hall editor, finding the mail box outside the TJ office as bare as the lawn in front of the auditorium will be soon if we don't stop making our own individual paths, rendered about the campus question, "What is your opinion of the assembly programs this year?"

Replies from a cross-section of the student body express the following ideas.

Mary Ben Tucker, freshman: "I think it would be a good idea to have a community sing occasionally for they seem to be enjoyed by us all before the Saturday night movie."

Margie Watkins, junior: "There should be more well-known speakers. Girls appreciate good speakers."

Smily Kinard, senior: "There are too many religious programs."

Margaret Galt, freshman: "The period devoted to chapel programs is impractical. Many of us are sleepy and hungry and the programs are too long."

Mary Lay Ewing, sophomore: "There could be a wider variety. For example, women as well as men speakers, and more programs given by the students could be added."

Libba Boykin, junior: "Fewer religious programs would be appreciated, because the purpose of the hour should be to entertain as well as educate."

Ada Moore, junior: "For a compulsory gathering, the programs should be more interesting to maintain full attention."

Carey R. Bates, sophomore: "I would like to have the band play more often. I think it'd be nice if they would play when we're coming in or leaving every assembly."

Wanda English, junior: "I think as a whole that assembly programs are good. Some speakers are too long occasionally. And you have to expect a few dry speakers during the course of a college education."

Jean Patrick, sophomore: "I think some of the speakers speak on subjects unsuitable for college assembly programs."

Genevieve Stanley, sophomore: "I'd enjoy more plays."

Lucy Boykin, freshman: "I think programs could be improved by having more student participation, not only in music programs, but also as speakers."

Maurel West, sophomore: "I'd like more music, particularly that of the band and the Swanks."

Carey Brunson, senior: "I'm in favor of more programs conducted by students."

Walsh Verdin, sophomore: "I'd like more musical programs and the featuring of more varied groups and persons."

MOST AMAZING EVENT OF THE WEEK: Double feature, starring Mr. Sims (Henry) and Mr. Sims (Hugo). The two-on-a-match combination of President Sims and double had a lively week end, complete with two birthday parties, an assembly program and thousands of amazed girls who thought they'd finally had too much Spam.

EITHER NEL LE DON has been writing letters to herself or she's twins, too. Look what she got in the mail: I am still bewildered by Winthrop and its upperclassmen. For instance, I was walking behind one on the way to class. She greeted her friend with "Halo." The friend, obviously an upperclassman, looking advanced in years, in reply said something that sounded like "Shampoo." Do you get it? I don't.

(Signed) Nel Le Don.

It isn't exactly what you'd call clear, but as a group of friends suggested: "I don't have much admiration for that, and I don't see how she ever dreamed it up!"

CABBAGES AND KINGS . . . And now tests seem to be all the fashion these days; so we may as well indulge in a bit of brain-bending. To Everybody from the Republican party to L'il Abner is counting votes now. Therefore, (for the romantic) pull up an easy chair, switch on your reading lamp, stretch your feet out to the cheerful fire, and count these votes on yourself. (For the realist) Throw your books and friends off the limp springs, climb onto the sagging mattress, blow the dust off the overhead light, cast another wicked look at the gurgling radiator, and begin.

Not to be outdone by the November elections, radio had its own tabulations, according to the popular rating report of the fall season's "big" shows. Final results gave Bob Hope top rank, and following in order of their popularity are the remaining nine shows which constitute the season's "Big Ten": Fibber McGee and Molly; Walter Winchell, Radio Theater, Charlie McCarthy, Abbot and Costello, Jack Benny, Mr. District Attorney, Eddie Cantor and His Rascals.

According to Wang, "Salaries of officials should be sufficient to keep them honest."

NEL LE DON SAYS: Nel, the senior, asks; I'm just now catching on to Winthrop and to what it's all about. Why are they graduating me now?

I noticed above that tests seem to be all the fashion. Haw. Singing from the howls and screams, does this mean they are also all the rage?

As a fool proof way to an "F", and as a cutting retort to the professor's question, "Why did you flunk my test?" Nel recommends "But you see, sir, my brain trust dissolved."

P. S. Nel didn't think it was so hot, either. Ed.

THE CHINA PRESS EXPRESSES

Recent relaxation of government censorship in China has opened an outlet for pent-up Chinese views. Outstanding are those of the brilliant, bespectacled Wang Yun-sheng, editor of Chungking's Ta Kung Pao.

According to Wang, "Salaries of officials should be sufficient to keep them honest."

This Social Campus

By MARY NEAL HARPER

The holiday spirit has begun. The wild gleams in 1400 pairs of eyes are a mixture of undiluted term-paper terror and the anticipation of gay Christmas frivolities. This is the season during which Winthrop openly admits its "good will to men" philosophy. Dining room carols and special renditions of "Jingle Bells" are definitely here. Christmas is just beyond that next assigned quiz.

Of Happenings . . .

THE REC ROOM

With an estimate of 600 persons enjoying the "Y's" newest brinchild over the week end, the Rec room opened officially Saturday afternoon with a house-warming for which the entire student body was invited. Winthrop was pleased—to put it mildly. The names on the guest register varied from the usual navy and white participants to campus visitors from near and far. Signing at the table were Ross Henderson, Catherine Boone, Teresa Clark, Margie McDade, Harriet Bull, Day Falvey, Margie Watkins, Paratrooper Leonard E. Past, someone's "Little Sister," RAF Liaison Pilot Milton G. Grogan, Sgt. William Clardon and Les Moses.

STUDENT-FACULTY TEA

The Student-Faculty relations committee of the "Y" entertained Saturday night after the movie with an informal tea held in the library of Thurmond hall. Coffee and doughnuts were served. Faculty members and students enjoying the affair were Miss Ida Ellerbe, Miss Elizabeth Foster, Mrs. Mae Ryan Locke, Miss Elsie Shoemaker, Miss Talma Malone, Sybil Drakeford, Katherine Bland, Mary Smith, Dot Kirkley, Susanne Badger, Lillie Rae Earle, Lella Owens, Frances McKinney and Lake Hendricks.

CAMPUS VISITORS

The campus was polka-dotted over the week end with out-of-town visitors. Among the identified guests were Mrs. LaVera Hunt and Lou Alice Flynn, guests of Audrey Campbell; Mrs. J. H. Clary, Sr. and Betty Ann Clark, visiting Cornelia Clary; Mrs. Anne Jacobs Shields, who spent Sunday on second floor North; Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Little, accompanied by last year's graduate, Katie, who visited daughter Peggy; and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stender of Columbia, guest of their daughter, Jean Stender.

WEEK-END LEAVES

Christmas Dance To Be Held December 16

Johnson Hall Ballroom As Swanks Play

Sims Invites Service Men; Dining Room Plan abandoned

"Christmas Ball," Winthrop's second formal, is scheduled for Saturday evening, December 16, from 8:30 to 11:30 in Johnson hall, with music furnished by the Swanks, according to an announcement by Zada Beth Green, chairman of the dance committee.

Following a Christmas tradition, each class will decorate a room in Johnson hall and these decorations will be used for the dance. At intermission, individual dormitories will entertain with drop-ins for the residents of their halls.

Invitations will be sold to the student body for twenty-five cents. Although admittance cards will not be needed for dates, only girls carrying invitations will be allowed to participate. Four no-breaks have been scheduled for the evening.

Former plans to have the Christmas formal in the dining hall have been abandoned.

'This Is The Life' Show For Saturday

"This Is The Life," a comedy romance produced by Universal Pictures, starring Donald O'Connor, Susanna Foster, and Peggy Ryan, is slated for showing on the Winthrop screen, Saturday evening, December 9, at 7:50, in the College auditorium.

Susanna Foster, lovely tricoloratura, sings four popular classics in the real, Rudolf Friml's "L'Amour, Toujours, L'Amour," Rodgers and Hart's "With A Song In My Heart," Bizet's "Open Thy Heart," and the Italian folk song, "Cirlibirli."

Bobby Brooks, sensational Negro boy soprano, sings "At Sundown," with a quartette and Ray Eberle's orchestra.

WTS Juniors To Present Play Dec. 15

The junior class of Winthrop Training school will present "Snark Date," a farce comedy in three acts, on Friday, December 15, at 8 o'clock.

"Snark Date" by Joseph H. Arnold is a fast-moving comedy of young people, with the setting in a military academy. The plot is a merry mix-up of believable, comic situations of happy, wise-cracking boys and girls and sustains suspense to the last scene.

Members of the cast are Ted Martin, Anne Jenkins, Virginia Cauthen, Paul Jenkins, Bobby Allen, Pat Rawson, Frank Strait, James Pong, Doris Campbell, Barbara Pearson, Frances Lynch, Juliet Ward, Louise Jolly, Charles Workman and Phyllis Collinge.

Miss Hortense Rogers and Mrs. Ribea Haskell are directors of the play and are assisted by a faculty committee. Mrs. David Ramsey and her elective art class are making posters for the play and for display in the Winthrop dormitories.

Milstein Shows Versatility In Interview With Press

By LOU GREEN

Relaxing with a cigarette backstage during intermission at the concert Friday, Nathan Milstein, the phenomenal violin virtuoso, admitted his fatigue but was graciously willing to comment on his on and off stage life saying, "You can't always believe all that my publicity director sends out."

Mr. Milstein, who allegedly often paints water colors rather than doing a great deal of practicing on the day of a concert, said with his decided Russian accent, "I don't paint much any more. I practiced all this afternoon. If you don't believe me, ask Dr. Roberts if he didn't hear all he noise." He modestly dismissed his ability to paint, though his works were chosen to be included among 40 exhibitors in the first annual exhibition of "Art by Musicians."

Mr. Milstein played on the Stradivarius "Dancia," a famous violin made in 1710 and considered by experts to have an unusually superb tone, even for a Stradivarius.

He likes to play ping pong and with a twinkle in his eye, boasted that he usually beat Valentin Pavlovsky, his accompanist, who was sitting across the room during the interview grinning at Mr. Milstein's most frequent answer to questions, "I did that 15 years ago," as if he were a "tired old man" in private life.

Mr. Milstein doesn't like to talk about his superstitions, but will admit he has several, not of the usual Friday the 13th, black cat

MANY FIRES!

It has been a long time since Rock Hill has had as many fires as in recent days. The community is fortunate however, in that these fires have not grown into conflagrations. In most instances those who have suffered damages or losses find out too soon that their misfortune has been a real misfortune because of inadequate insurance.

This Agency is going into its 39th year serving the people of this section with the best insurance available. We suggest to our friends associated with Winthrop that they take an inventory of their policies and we venture the assertion that you will find that you are inadequately protected.

We invite your insurance business on the basis of the record of this Agency in settling insurance claims satisfactorily.

WHILE WE'RE IN THE SPIRIT, a human interest anecdote came to light this week. The recreation department of the College received a request from a mother, asking if the College had an old basketball "that will still hold air" that she could buy for her three-year old son's Santa Claus. He has told everyone that Santa is going to bring him a "big, high ball," and the PE department wants to answer this request to help make a little boy's Christmas what he hopes it will be.

THE ANNUAL ASSEMBLY PROGRAM to be presented on December 12 is under the sponsorship of the Folk Dance club, with GaeDella Wolfe, club secretary, in charge. The program is to feature a Polish Christmas scene, with singing and dancing by members of the club, the folk dance class and fourth graders from WTS, under the direction of Lillian Wyle. The carolers, a small group of glee clubbers, are to render the music. Schubert's "Ave Maria" is to be presented by the dance group, and a rhythm number, an interpretation of "Jingle Bells," will be given by the 30 frosh PE majors.

REGULAR SATURDAY-NIGHT-MOVIE-GOERS out-shouted each other in the show when Grantland Rice's sports quiz came on the screen. ## Novice Cage Teams In Clash Here

BSU Plays Wesley Foundation, Beta Alpha Meets JHA To Start 'Round Robin' Tournament

The novice basketball tournament gets under way Monday afternoon, when BSU will battle it out against Wesley Foundation sharply at 4:15, in the first game of the "round robin" contests. At 5 o'clock, Beta Alpha will meet JHA, announced Kirbycye Hayes, club chairman.

Wednesday afternoon, the scheduled games are BSU vs. Beta Alpha, and JHA vs. Wesley Foundation. BSU and JHA will clash in the first game Friday afternoon, and Wesley Foundation and Beta Alpha in the second.

The fifth team slated to participate in the novice tournament was the Young Democrats, who withdrew earlier this week. The "Round Robin" type of tourney is being played instead of the usual elimination.

A meeting of the 95 freshmen who signed up recently to enter the frosh tourney, previously scheduled for last night, will be held Monday night at 6:30 in the gym, announced Chairman Hayes. About nine teams will be chosen from the above number at the close of the tourney.

Special Programs Committee Show Health Movies

The special program committee of the Health Education class, headed by Betty Gambrell and Bee White, has drawn up plans to present health movies to the students during second semester.

The movies will represent all phases of good health and how to maintain it through environment, nutrition and recreation.

Bessie Norris, co-chairman of the publicity committee, said yesterday "I wish to thank Winthrop's student body for making the Health exhibit a success."

Posters exhibited over the campus will be interchanged, and Chairman Norris asks that all students observe the new posters.

Winthrop Not Participant

Winthrop college does not participate in the Dixie Tournament, but acts as sponsor and sends chairmen for events. Judges for the events were chosen from the various college delegations.

Debate, scheduled for Saturday, December 9, will be on the subject, "Resolved, that the Federal Government should enact legislation requiring the settlement of all labor disputes by compulsory arbitration when voluntary means of settlement have failed." Debate subject matter was compiled by the National Debate Question committee.

Winthrop chairmen of events include Peggy Funderburke, extempore, impromptu, after-dinner speech, and oratory; Nell Irby, debate; Betty Garris, special contests, and Nancy Young, judges and rooms.

Colleges participating in the Dixie tournament are Mars Hill college, Emory university, Carson-Newman college, Lenoir-Rhyne college and Bridgewater college.

nual room reservation fee of $5 be retained until the close of the school session to be returned to the student only upon recommendation of the dormitory hostess after inspection of the rooms. It is also recommended that rooms be inspected by the same hostess before the school session begins.

Cox, Lee Net Champs In Tourneys

Dot Lee and Jean Cox of Breazeale defeated Roddey's Nan Peace and Norma Wilcox, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3, Tuesday afternoon, to round up the frosh dormitory doubles tournament, first rung in the campus ladder.

The winners will play other dorm camps at the end of the tournament sponsored by the Tennis club, in affiliation with the revised Winthrop Athletic association constitution.

The senior hall tourney gets underway next week, and posters will be placed in the dormitory so that entrants may sign for participation in the tournament.

'Spitfires' Win Campus Hockey Bout

Team Two, "The Spitfires," won two out of three games to top the campus hockey crown in the annual hockey tournament, Pauline Palles, Hockey club chairman, announced yesterday.

The winning team defeated Team One, "The Striped Terrors," on November 17 and "The White Lightnings" on December 1, in a close match. The score, 1-0, was made in the first 5 minutes of play, and remained in the "Spitfires" favor during the remainder of the game.

Wednesday afternoon, "The White Lightnings" and "The Striped Terrors" tied in the last game of the tourney, 1-1.

Chairman Palles announced that a varsity team will be chosen tonight from the players of the three teams.
